Environmental pressures have been increasing on businesses over many years. New legislation has forced companies to look at their impact on the environment through such issues as use of resources, emissions, energy use, transport and waste management. Accidents such as the recent pollution incident by BP in the Gulf of Mexico grab the attention of the media and bring it into the public domain. In addition to its focus on the NEBOSH course, this book covers all of the essential elements managers will need to understand correct environmental health and safety management, including the broad legal framework, risk assessment and pointers to relevant standards.

Brian Waters has 15 years’ experience in the water supply industry, and 13 years of experience in senior management roles with the National Rivers Authority and the Environment Agency. He has subsequently worked in training and consultancy, giving him a wealth of experience in this area.
Manual of Environmental Management

Adrian Belcham

This comprehensive and practical guide takes you through the main environmental challenges organisations face and the improvement strategies used to manage them.

Chapter by chapter, the Manual of Environmental Management discusses the fundamental issues and principles surrounding environmental policy, law and management and provides crucial information on how to respond and implement environmental programmes.

It is also a perfect reference tool for environmental professionals.

Adrian Belcham B.Sc, M.Sc, is a Chartered Environmentalist, full member of the Institute of Environmental Management and Assessment, and an EARA accredited Environmental Auditor. Since 1998 he has been lead tutor of the UK based training organisation Cambio Environmental Ltd.

Environmental Management
